They live an aimless life and what they become is largely a matter of chance. Such people because they aim at nothing, achieve nothing. To make anything of life, we must have an ideal of some sort. A man striving to realize a definite ideal is like a steamship steaming by the compass to a known definition. It does not depend on the wind and wave; to have an ideal in life it is of the utmost importance that the ideal should be the right one.

QUESTIONS: -

- 1) To what does the author compare aimless people?
- 2) Why do people without ideals achieve nothing?
- 3) What must we have to make anything of life?
- 4) To what does the author compare a man without a definite ideal?
- 5) Give a suitable title
